FAQs

Q: When should the panels be set-up?

A: We recommend the panels to be set up at least 1 day prior to the event to allow enough time to make any changes to the arrangement, if necessary.

Q: What is the maximum duration that panels can be deployed for?

A: There are no restrictions on the duration, but most deployments last between 1 to 5 days. All requests will be assessed on a case-by-case basis and we will try our best to meet the requestors' proposed duration whenever possible. During peak periods (e.g. around Total Defence Day), the panels may be deployed for shorter durations per location so as to accommodate more requests. We appreciate your understanding on this.

Q: Can schools/organisations request for Home Team officers to be present to explain the panels?

A: The panels are designed to be viewed independently without the hosting by Home Team officers. If schools/organisations are keen to have guided exhibitions, they may wish to consider training student/staff docents to conduct peer-to-peer advocacy to their peers and colleagues.

Q: How should the panels be arranged?

A: The panels should be arranged in order of the panel numbers reflected in Annex B (refer to reference image below). The TV panel (Panel 8) and Photo-booth panel (Panel 9) may be placed separately based on the power source location and space availability. The contact person stated in Annex A is required to be present during the set-up to acknowledge the Delivery Order.

Q: Do I need a power source for the TV panel?

A: Yes, schools/organisations are to ensure that there is a power source at the site where the TV panel will be placed, before requesting for the said panel. The event staff deploying the panels on-site will be guiding the contact person on how to play the videos on the TV. The contact person is also responsible for safekeeping the TV remote as any missing items from the exhibition panels (including the photo booth props) will be chargeable.

Q: Are there multiple sets which can be displayed concurrently at different locations?

A: Yes. There are 4 sets available for booking, subject to availability.

PARTNERSHIP WITH THE COMMUNITY

Businesses work together to strengthen their emergency response plans as a community through table-top exercises that bring together partners in the vicinity as well as through Safety and Security Watch Groups. Company representatives learn to enhance safety and security of their premises and to better handle incidents that may affect different parts of their premises. These support networks enable businesses to be better equipped to handle threats and to recover quickly from crises collectively.

BUILDING BUSINESS RESILIENCE

Digital resources, e-learning and workshops on business resilience help companies and their employees prepare their processes so that they may return to normalcy more quickly after a crisis. The advisories on Contingency Planning and Protective Security, and videos and slides on Business Continuity Planning provide useful tips to companies on how to develop immediate contingency response plans and implement protective security measures.

You can access these advisories and learning resources at www.sgsecure.gov.sg/resources and www.mom.gov.sg/sgsecure or scan the QR code below.

SGSECURE ENGAGEMENTS IN SCHOOLS

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS IN SCHOOLS

Students learn about emergency preparedness through different platforms in schools, such as card games, assembly talks and emergency drills. Students are also given opportunities to acquire knowledge on fire safety and first aid, as well as practise CPR and use of AED. School leaders, staff and students participate in regular emergency training exercises and drills to practise how to respond to emergency situations in the school, including security incidents.

As part of the cohort activity for Total Defence Day, card games for Primary 6 and Secondary 2 students are produced to sensitise students to the threats and challenges that we face today. These activities emphasise how everyone has a part to play in Total Defence and also reinforce the SGSecure messages. By playing the games, students can better understand how each pillar of Total Defence contributes to building a strong and cohesive nation.
